Ellie after amazing
Rio results

GOLDEN GIRL: Ellie Robinson proudly holds her gold and bronze Rio Paralympic medals on her first day back at Northampton High School

Picture by Keiron Hillhouse

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER

nicholas.bieber@hnorthants.co.uk

A 15-year-old Northampton girl returned to school a Paralympic champion and local hero this week.

Ellie Robinson was given a standing ovation by her classmates in an assembly at Northampton High School on Monday morning.

The star swimmer, who won gold and bronze medals in Rio, will now attempt to knuckle down for a tough year of GCSE exams.

"It's really strange to be back," Ellie told the H&P, "but it was really nice seeing everyone again."

Editor's Letter

How an American in Northampton sold us the future . . .

I saw the Cityfibre presentation last week announcing the launch of Northampton as a Gigabit City.

It was quite an amazing gathering of high ranking councillors, chief executives, an MP and a Mayor thrown in, business folk of all types and me.

We were in the Sturridge Pavilion at Franklin's Gardens and even though most people probably knew roughly what to expect, there was something slightly intriguing about the whole event.

Due to a moment of foresight many years ago, a fibre optic cable network was laid under the town that more or less connected Moulton Park and Brackmills. . . and then remained unused in that brilliantly understated Northampton manner.

Now Cityfibre, which is cabling up the country with superfast broadband, has bought the network and plugged it in to its own superhighway.

Cityfibre's American CEO Greg Mesch was the star turn at the presentation. He was corporate catnip. He had a rugged, television fresh appearance like the main presenter on a DIY show for Man Channel and he fizzed with passion for his product.

I love digging up the streets and laying cable

"I love digging up streets and laying cable!" he told us, amid anecdotes about battling for bandwidth with his kids on the home wifi. Brilliant. He was like a punchy apple pie go-getter from central casting. It really was impressive.

I felt like I was seeing something performed live that I had seen on imported American television countless times. The great American pitch.

"Here's the deal folks..." The contrast with the Britishness of the rest of the room made me smile. If a British businessman had made the same pitch as Mr Mesch, word for word, he would have looked like a lunatic. All that energy and enthusiasm would have come across as desperation. All that conviction would have seemed at best a bit cocky and at worst a sign of drunkenness. Having said that, fibre-optic is definitely the next big thing. See p20.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Stabbing near pub

A man was in hospital this week after he was stabbed near The Fiddlers pub in Northampton. Police were called to the incident in Palmerston Street at around 5.30pm on Tuesday. A spokesperson for the force said the man is in a 'stable, non life-threatening condition'.

Guilty of murder

A Corby man has been found guilty of murder after he punched his victim at a KFC eatery in Corby. Ashley Palmer, 33, had admitted manslaughter, but denied murdering Bernard Farrell, 38, on Tuesday, November 3, 2015.

Abduction attempt

Police are looking into the attempted abduction of a woman in Northampton. The victim was walking down Birchfield Road East wearing headphones on Friday, when a man in a car tried to pull her into his car by her arm.

Pound stretching shopping spree...

CASHING IN: Counting up the goods at the end of the Poundstretchers spree

nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.co.uk

Staff at Towcester Foodbank finished a 40-minute spree around their new Poundstretchers shop, after they were given £100 by the discount chain.

Trustees at the charity were given an almost arm's length sized receipt at the end of their shop, which took place last Friday, listing 129 items totalling £100 – all of which were purchased using a voucher from the store for the foodbank's users.

It included food, drink and toiletries, many of which were purchased in bulk of two, three and four, such as cereals, soup, chocolate, sauces, coffee, tissues and toothpaste.

All the produce will now be sorted into 15kg food parcels which will provide three days of supplies to users of the Trussell Trust-run foodbank, which is currently based at Towcester Youth Coffee House and open on Mondays and Thursdays.

The spree came after Poundstretchers offered the H&P a £20 voucher to use at the store, which this newspaper suggested giving to the foodbank to benefit more people.

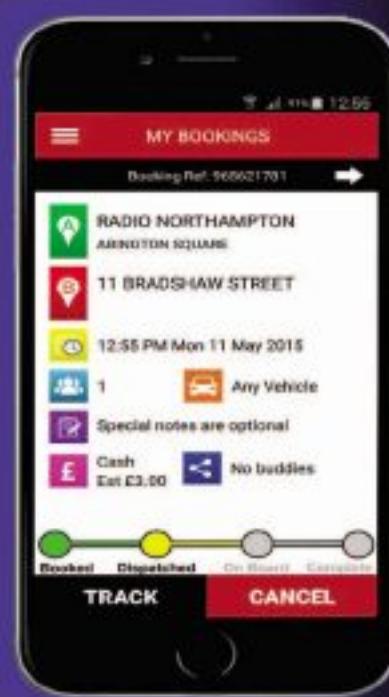

In a generous act, the chain, which opened its Towcester store two weeks ago, then decided to up the donation and offer £100 of food vouchers to the charity, which was first opened in 2012 and is run entirely by volunteers.

The shopping trip then took place last Friday, with three of the foodbank's group of seven trustees being enlisted to pick the items off the shelves – finishing with two trolleyfuls.

Barbara Parfitt – the coordinator at the foodbank which fed 110 people in Towcester and surrounding areas just last month, including 63 adults and 47 children, said: "We are really excited to be able to put that in our stocks and give it to people in need. It will go a long way."

Cameras plan

Northampton Borough Council is proposing to introduce body-worn cameras for Neighbourhood Wardens and Park Rangers in Northampton.

The proposal went before the General Purposes Committee on Thursday. A final decision will be made next month.

Pedal power

Two business partners from Berry's in Northamptonshire completed the Prologis 100 Cycling Challenge to raise nearly £14,000 for charity. Part of a team of 100 cyclists, Guy Banham and John Rivett raised the money for LandAid and the Jack-Rabbit Foundation.

Back to school 50 years over

Sheila Nunn still loves every minute of her job – even after half a century

In our lives we go to school for a set number of years and then we move on to pastures new.

But one woman in a Northamptonshire village has spent 50 years at pre-school and has loved every minute.

Sheila Nunn, who is now 87, was there on the very first day Hackleton Pre-School Playgroup opened its doors 50 years ago in October 1966.

While the rest of the UK was swinging with the 60s and everything was FAB, Hackleton was opening the doors to its very first pre-school playgroup, with the able assistance of Sheila.

Sheila, who was a nurse at Northampton General Hospital from 1947-1952, lived in the village and went along to see if she could help.

Her assistance was not only needed on day one - it is still needed today, half a century later.

Sheila said: "I went along to the meetings as it was being set up and went along on the first day to see if I could help, and I have been going ever since.

"When I went along at the start I was just helping out as a volunteer but then two years later I was helping out as a supervisor.

"I have been volunteering through my life here and this has been a big part of my life.

"As soon as I walk into the room the children are running towards me and are happy to see me.

"It is a wonderful feeling and it helps keep me young."

She added: "I love children and I have been a foster parent for eight children.

"Myself and my husband

TEAM: Sheila and the kids at the pre-school where she has helped out for 50 years

(Geoffrey) became foster parents in 1954 when we heard an advert on the radio asking if you could give a foster child a home at Christmas.

"As our first child was two years old we thought we could do that, and that is how we became foster parents."

Sheila said that when

Hackleton Pre-School Playgroup first opened its doors a number of other villages were doing the same thing.

Over time, many have closed down but Hackleton has gone from strength to strength.

She said: "You have got to have a good team to keep everything going and we have one here. They are all happy children and I am happy to be here helping out."

The pre-school will hold two 50th birthday events - a family disco on October 8 and a family picnic on October 14. For details call 07902286411 or email businessmgr.hackletonpreschool@gmail.com

BAILED: Nathan Wyatt was arrested by officers on Saturday

Pippa hack probe arrest

nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.co.uk

An unemployed dad from Wellingborough has been arrested and bailed following claims a hacker tried to sell thousands of pictures stolen from the Duchess of Cambridge's sister Pippa Middleton's Apple iCloud account.

Nathan Wyatt, 35, was arrested on Saturday evening after it emerged a cyber criminal had approached The Sun and Daily Mail newspapers and demanded £50,000 for 3,000 pictures stolen from Miss Middleton's account.

The hacked account was, according to The Daily Mirror, believed to have contained pictures of the 33-year-old trying on her wedding dress, nude snaps of her fiancé James Matthews, 40, and family photos of the Duchess of Cambridge, Prince William,

Prince George and Princess Charlotte.

It is also reported the man made the offer via encrypted messaging service WhatsApp, with The Sun saying it had been approached by someone using a pseudonym and asking for the money within 48 hours.

When Mr Wyatt was arrested by Metropolitan Police officers at his home – which he shares with his fiancée and a child – under the Computer Misuse Act, he was then taken to a south London police station for questioning.

He was released the next evening on bail pending further enquiries, and told to return to the station in late November.

On the night he was arrested, neighbours say police searched Mr Wyatt's house thoroughly and also examined his car.

One resident described him as a 'respectable family man' who is 'into his football'.

Cloudy2Clear Announce Trusted Trader Partnership

Consumer champions
Which? have now joined the thousands of customers who recognise that Cloudy2Clear Windows truly are a business that you can TRUST. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has received the coveted 'Which Trusted Trader' status after going through a rigorous accreditation process entirely focussed on customer service.

Group Managing Director Marcus McGee believes that Which? has endorsed Cloudy2Clear's long standing company policy of delivering the highest standards possible at all times. 'Our service is simple. If your double glazing has misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 25 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Whilst a number of tradespeople perhaps don't focus on customer care as much as they should do, we make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle.'

Locally Cloudy2Clear service the Northampton, Kettering, Wellingborough

& Corby areas and manager Trevor Skidmore agrees that this approach is a major factor in its success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated as both my customers and, obviously a body as nationally important as Which? now recognise.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Trevor a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

NEWS IN BRIEF

Bag theft at store

CCTV images have been released of a couple police want to speak to in relation to a distraction theft at the Aldi store in Harlestone Road, Northampton, last Tuesday. A woman asked the victim for help, while a man stole her bag from her trolley.

Machete scare

A police helicopter was scrambled to Irthingborough on Friday afternoon to reports of a man walking around with a machete. Officers rushed to several streets, starting with Victoria Street, at around 3.40pm after receiving the report, but nothing was found.

Travellers move on

A group of travellers who pitched up on the Racecourse in Northampton two weeks ago have finally moved on, after being threatened with a court order. The camp had stretched along several sports pitches, causing disruption to Sunday league football matches.

Collision death

A motorcyclist died on Monday after he collided with a car near Daventry on Saturday. Gary Bates, 49, of Epping Walk, in Daventry, was riding down Charwelton Road when he collided with a BMW at a junction. The 32-year-old BMW driver was arrested.

GOLDEN GIRL: Ellie Robinson joins friends at Northampton High School

Rio star Ellie back in class

nicholas.bieber@hpnorhants.co.uk

Paralympic swimming star Ellie Robinson returned to school to a hero's welcome this week as she prepared to knuckle down for her final year of GCSE exams.

The 15-year-old pupil arrived at Northampton High School on Monday to a standing ovation as she was introduced to hundreds of her classmates in a packed assembly.

Afterwards, she spoke to the Northants Herald & Post and reflected on her Rio experience – in which she won gold in the 50m butterfly and bagged bronze in the 100m freestyle.

Firstly taking time to thank the people of Northampton for rooting for her throughout the games, the smiling teenager said: "Just thank you, because it was just something that I honestly never expected to happen."

"I remember when I started swimming, I always wanted to be the inspiration that Ellie Simmonds (London 2012 four-time paralympic medallist) was to me, and it was weird realising that finally I was that inspiration and that people were looking up to me – well, metaphorically! It was cool, it was really nice."

Ellie, who – like her inspiration

Simmonds – has dwarfism, first started swimming at the age of four, before improving through swimming classes at her school and then being talent spotted in 2012.

Having aimed to make her debut at the Tokyo games in 2020, Ellie described her first games in Rio as 'unbelievable', saying: "It was really nice. It was just this experience that I will never get back again."

Reliving the moment when she won gold, she said: "It was really strange, because I had always imagined myself winning it."

"But when I did win it, it was just completely different to how I thought it was going to be. It was really weird and took a long time to sink in."

Reflecting on winning the bronze, which she had described as her weakest event, she said: "I remember touching the end of the pool and seeing three dots (next to my name)... it was so weird as I really wanted to finish on a high, and it was weird that I had."

Asked what the next step is, Ellie - who will now embark on a year of exams - said: "Well, the world swimming championships is Mexico next year."

"As for Tokyo, anything can happen in four years. I'll aim for it and see what happens."

'That's no gangster walk... I'm waving!'

REACHING FOR GOLD:
Ellie's walk made news
in the national press

Ellie Robinson sent Twitter into overdrive when she made a 'gangster entrance' to her first event in Rio.

But her confident walk ahead of the 50m butterfly – in which she stretched her arms out while wearing a large hooded coat – was actually her attempting to 'wave' to the crowd.

She said: "The coat really restricted my movement and I was trying to wave. But the reaction was crazy, and quite nice!"

NEWS IN BRIEF

Jail term for abuser

A man was jailed at Northampton Crown Court on Friday for the sexual abuse of a girl under 13. Gavin McCarthy, 31, of Loddington Road, Cransley, will remain on the Sex Offender Register for life. He was given eight years, half on licence.

Wheelie bin fires

Vandals set fire to a number of wheelie bins stored beneath a small window of the Emmanuel Evangelical Church in Shaftesbury Avenue, Kettering. The blaze destroyed the bins and damaged the church window. Call police on 101 with information.

Robbed in park

A 12-year-old boy was threatened and robbed by two 14-year-old boys while he was walking with a friend through the park in Meadow Road, Kettering. It happened on Saturday at about 4.15pm when one teenager threatened to assault the victim unless he handed over his bag, which he did.

No to 18 homes

Plans to build 18 new homes on part of a former haulage yard in Roade have been refused. The plans were rejected by South Northamptonshire Council over concerns the application would result in a loss of employment opportunities and affordable housing.

DISPLAY: Queen Victoria's wedding shoes are in the museum's collection

A white satin shoe fit for a Queen

Television drama Victoria is currently pulling in the viewers on a Sunday night on ITV 1.

But did you know a pair of Queen Victoria's shoes are on display at Northampton Museum & Art Gallery as well as a pair of boots owned by her husband Prince Albert? Queen Victoria's shoes are white satin and were worn on her wedding day, February 10, 1840.

These are just some of the treasures which you can see at the Northampton town centre venue.

The shoe collection at the museum is the largest collection of shoe heritage in the world.

It is of national and international significance, featuring more than 12,000 shoes from Egyptian footwear to contemporary British design.

No charges a year on from murder

BY LAWRENCE JOHN

MURDER VICTIM: David Brickwood

On the one year anniversary of the murder of David Brickwood, a friend has described him as 'a good man, well-loved and very badly missed'.

David, 74, was found brutally attacked at his home in Lindsey Avenue, Abington, Northampton, on September 26, 2015. He had been stabbed several times and later died in hospital.

In the past 12 months investigators have worked to find those responsible however the suspects still remain at large.

Sue Hawkes, who had been a friend and neighbour of David's for more than 15 years, said she could remember the first time she met him: "When we first moved in, he came in to see if he could help. Dave was a good friend, well loved. You still expect to see him out there with a cup of tea. All the cars that would go by, they would beep their horn and say 'hello Dave'."

Despite 12 months passing, Mrs Hawkes still thinks of Dave regularly: "I often sit there and think I can hear Dave shouting out. I know it sounds silly. Quite often I still get choked up about it.

Appealing to anyone with information, she added: "I hope they have a prang of conscience. Tell the police, because you've got to live with this the rest of your life."

Anyone with information should call police on 101.

County and Northampton Borough Councillor Suresh Patel 'must have' a picture of his two granddaughters, Seyani, nine, and Eshani, six. He said: "It takes pride of place in my wallet at all times. Family is a big thing to me, and my granddaughters are my pride and joy, so if ever I'm having a stressful day, I take a quick peek at their photo and remind myself how lucky I am."

BLOGGER OF THE WEEK

Be part of Local Plan

Cllr Arthur McCutcheon

This week's Blogger of the Week is Cllr Arthur McCutcheon, Labour shadow cabinet member for planning and regeneration

In this blog I want to urge all Herald & Post readers in Northampton to get involved in the development of the 'Local Plan'. This is going to be a very important document as it sets out the long-term strategy for what, where, when and how development will be managed in our town.

What do you want Northampton to be like in 2029? How and where do we provide new homes? How do we encourage new employment opportunities into the Borough?

Crucial questions include how do we revitalise the town centre and celebrate our fantastic heritage?

The Local Plan can also help us address the chronic lack of housing we have in Northampton. My colleague Cllr Danielle Stone has made the point previously that not enough family homes are being built.

The Borough Council has now for a number of years had to do a balancing act between public concerns about the proliferation of HMOs and the need for low cost affordable accommodation.

The current Local Plan dates back to 1997 and we can all agree things have changed dramatically since then.

The 1997 document is of its time. If I have any criticism this new Local Plan should have been done much sooner.

However, I must praise the work of Cllr Tim Hadland who is doing a good job in sorting this all out and ensuring we have a Local Plan that shapes planning decisions in the way that benefits us.

There has been an initial consultation on the Local Plan and Northampton Borough Council has collected this feedback.

The next stage of the consultation is running and I urge you to go and visit www.northampton.gov.uk/localplan or go to the One Stop Shop at the Guildhall.

What do you think?

Messages of praise pour in for Paralympian

This week the Northants Herald & Post recorded a live Facebook video of Paralympic medallist Ellie Robinson, pictured right, being introduced to her classmates in an assembly on her return to Northampton High School (page 7).

The footage moved one of our readers to happy tears. Here's some of the comments it received:

LEANNE CLARK: Brilliant! Well done Ellie. Hope you enjoyed your first day back at school.

SHARON EDWARDS: Such a lovely young lady. What an inspiration to others. How proud her family must be.

DALE ALLARD: Am crying with pride. Well done sweetie.

Council must apologise for failed due diligence

In line with the principle of 'better late than never', it was encouraging to read the comments by Councillor Mary Markham, leader of Northampton Borough Council, on the outcome of the KMPG report into the loan to Northampton Town Football Club.

What I find unacceptable is that she then goes on to say that, although the loan is a serious issue, it must be balanced against the council's otherwise proven financial record. The loan did not happen on her watch, that is true, but I can't see an apology anywhere in her statement for the council not exercising due diligence when the loan was agreed. It simply is not good enough to say we usually get it right – in the case of the loan to Northampton Town Football Club, they got it spectacularly wrong to the tune of £10.25m.

Moving swiftly on, prudent financial management seems to be lacking at the County Council where your newspaper reports on another KMPG Audit, the result of which is that the lead auditor will be issuing a formal 'adverse-value-for-money-opinion'. Only three other councils have been issued with this stark warning out of 28 which this gentleman audits.

The Conservative Party has been in control of the County Council for 11 years and the Borough Council for five years. What a legacy for the Conservative Party to leave for the people of Northampton.

Brexit hate crime lowest in England

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER
nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.co.uk

Race hate crime in Northamptonshire actually fell in the aftermath of the referendum on the membership of the European Union – despite it rising by 14 per cent across the UK.

According to the figures obtained in a Freedom of Information request by the Daily Mirror, the county's police force recorded the lowest numbers in England, and the second in the UK – only behind to Scotland.

Northamptonshire was also one of two police forces which recorded a drop in race hate crime, with the county – where the majority of voters opted to leave the EU – seeing a one per cent drop, and Scotland recording a 15 per cent drop.

Other areas with the lowest rises in hate crime following the vote on June 23 were Hampshire (rise of nine per cent), Merseyside (nine per cent rise) and Greater Manchester (13 per cent rise).

At the top of the table, figures soared with Suffolk

PRE-BREXIT: People clashed in Northampton ahead of a proposed visit by UKIP's then leader, Nigel Farage recording a hike of 68 per cent, followed by Gwent with 67 per cent, Norfolk with 63 per cent, Thames Valley with 56 per cent and Leicestershire with 49 per cent.

Despite the positive numbers for Northamptonshire, according to the Mirror four days after the Brexit result, a taxi passenger racially abused a female driver in Corby. It is alleged the passenger said:

"Did you see the results of the referendum?"

"What are you still doing here? You should be killed."

"All of you from your country should be killed."

When ex-UKIP leader Nigel Farage planned to visit Northampton before the vote, supporters and protesters clashed in angry verbal exchanges.

'We just need Poppy to come home'

LOST DOG: Call 07905312333 if you have seen Poppy in the last few days

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER
nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.co.uk

A devastated family has issued a heartfelt plea for the return of their beloved dog – which has been stolen from their home.

Five-month old Poppy, a chocolate-coloured cocker spaniel, is claimed to have been stolen from East Haddon by two men in a white Ford Transit Connect van last Wednesday afternoon.

Owners Gilly Wrathall and James Sealy have since been appealing on social media for the dog's whereabouts, with their posts being shared nearly 20,000 times.

The couple, who also own another dog – say they, and James' five-year-old son, have been left 'devastated' by the theft, and are now hoping to spread the word through the Northants Herald & Post.

Explaining what happened when Poppy was stolen, Gilly, an agricultural administrator, told how she had been working in an office outbuilding on the same land as her and James' farm house. She said a car drove past at 4.20pm, but 'presumed it to be somebody who comes here quite often for a legitimate reason', and so she 'didn't take too much notice'.

She said: "Our dogs then ran out as they always do when a car comes, and then after a minute or so the other dog barked – so I went to see who it was."

By this time, the van had driven off, and Poppy was nowhere to be seen. Gilly says the family are 'heartbroken'.

It is embarrassing as I am the one who has to sort it out and I am the one who suffers.

I get to the till to pay but cannot as I do not have my wallet and therefore no money.

I then have to walk back to the car to get it, walk back to the shop to pay and then walk back to the car. I feel like an idiot. I wish I could forget that feeling.

Some things we do in life are repetitive, for example getting up every morning and getting ourselves ready for the day.

Despite doing the same thing over and over every day we still forget something.

It reminds me of something I read not so long ago which said: "How many times have you heard the phrase; 'Oh, I have a memory like a sieve, if my head wasn't screwed on I would forget that as well'. Is this a case of déjà vu or what?

possible explanation is retrieval failure is known as decay theory. If information is not retrieved and rehearsed, it will eventually be lost."

My memory is good 90 per cent of the time, the other ten per cent I have glitches and failures and I simply forget. One item I keep forgetting from time to time is my wallet with my money and credit cards.

I do not forget to take it with me when I leave the house – no I leave it in the car and forget to take it with me to the shops.

An explanation of why we forget things states: "One

Entering mindset

BY LAWRENCE JOHN

lawrence.john@hpnorthants.co.uk

Sport psychology is all about getting the best out of an athlete or a professional sportsman or woman.

It is aiming to get them balanced both in mind and body so they can perform in their sport and deliver what is called their optimal performance.

One of the people teaching the next generation of sport psychologists is Dr Nathan Smith who is a lecturer in sport psychology at the University of Northampton.

Dr Smith explained the biggest challenge faced by football managers is to get the best out of their players so each one can find their optimal performance zone.

This all comes down to man management and how each player needs to be treated. Some need to get pumped up while others need to be quiet and get into their own zone.

There is a similarity in sport. Three times British Touring Car champion, Matt Neal said: "Some days you hit the ball straight down the middle while others it goes to the left or to the right for no reason. It is all up here (pointing to his head) you

This positive attitude and positive frame of mind is important when it comes to sport psychology.

Dr Smith said: "When I speak to sportsmen and women they talk about getting into a flow state. This is their optimal zone where they flow during their performance.

"They want to get into a zone where they are not aware of anything when they are performing at the highest level and are in a sporting holy grail state.

"This is when you want to be playing as well as possible.

"It is similar when students attend a class they like and suddenly look up at the clock and the lesson is over. They are unaware of their surroundings or time.

FEEL GOOD FACTOR

Good living, getting out there and getting on with it in Northants

Get next generation inspired

Visit the University of Northampton during the summer months and you could be forgiven for thinking you were in the grounds of a school, rather than an institute of Higher Education.

A younger crowd descended on Park and Avenue Campuses, to take part in fun taster sessions covering subjects as diverse as engineering and popular music.

This summer has seen around 1,200 secondary school children and 500 primary pupils come along.

The aim is to raise the aspirations of children with the ultimate goal being an increase in county school leavers progressing to university.

Silverstone riders

Cyclists of all ages and abilities will be taking to the track at Silverstone on Sunday.

There is a time trial challenge featuring times set by Team Sky and also a variety of other ways to enjoy the track, including a leisure ride just for fun.

The event is being held to raise money for Operation Smile and hundreds of cyclists have put their names down to take part.

83 year-old cycling enthusiast Denis Hedges from took up time trialling events in 1949.

He said "I got better and faster when I turned 60 and retired. I rode the 10-mile Castle Combe Circuit on my 80th birthday followed by Lands End to John o'Groats a month later."

Denis is taking part in the 10 Mile Time Trial.

There is also an event village on the day.

Cyclists clocked up 50,000 miles

BY ANNA MURBY
news@HPnorthants.co.uk

With husbands and wives, mums and daughters, fathers and sons and even three generations pedalling together, it was certainly a family affair at Northamptonshire's thirteenth favourite annual fundraising bike ride, Cycle4Cynthia!

The event, which was held at Holdenby House on Sunday by kind permission of James and Karen Lowther, saw an incredible 1154 riders leap into their saddles to pedal almost 50,000 miles in total around the local countryside in aid of Cynthia Spencer Hospice.

Among them was the Guest family from Ravensthorpe, that of Anna and Bryan, their seven-year-old son Charles and daughter Cecelia aged 5. Bryan was the first of the 50-milers home yet unbeknown to him had earlier in the day been beaten to the finishing tape when Charles left his Mum and sister out on the 5-mile course to sprint home!

"Not that he's competitive at all!" explained Anna when they all met up to celebrate after collecting their special designed C4C medal marking the Hospice's 40th year, which had been generously sponsored by Northampton-based lettings and sales agents, Chelton Brown.

Meanwhile for Jessica Pilkington from Spratton, the ride was a particularly poignant affair as she, her 14 year old daughter Polly and Mum Patsy, aged 67, were cycling in memory of Jessica's sister Jasmine, who passed away at the Hospice some three years ago aged just 39; "Jasmine was so lovingly cared for by all the team at Cynthia Spence's that Polly wanted to do something in memory of her aunt and, despite having pedalled no more than a few miles, decided it would be this ride" explained a very proud Jessica.

So joining her as three generations seemed a fitting tribute to Jasmine and we're delighted to have raised £1000 already with money still coming in.

"Yet even that couldn't really show our gratitude to those who not only looked after us as a family but also allowed Jasmine to smile in her final days and ultimately give us such lasting, precious memories to treasure" she added.

Keeping up a longstanding partnership with Northampton Saints, the event was launched by prop and England captain Dylan Hartley before he himself, in keeping with the family theme of the event, pedalled off with partner Jo alongside, while she had their one year old daughter Thea in a basket on the back! Having just become a father,

Welcome to the next Gigabit city

DATA: Greg Mesch with Northampton Mayor Christopher Malpas and Mayoress Lynne

BY STEVE SCOLES
stevescoles@hpnorthants.co.uk

A new plan to offer superfast broadband connections in Northampton aims to make the town the next 'Gigabit city'.

Will that mean high speed links into homes? The boss of fibre-optic cable company Cityfibre says it can but the infrastructure is rolling out to businesses first.

Greg Mesch, CEO of CityFibre, said: "Northampton and its businesses will be able to enjoy a huge digital head start on the competition."

The upgrade will transform the speed and reliability of internet services for companies that invest in a fibre optic connection, delivering download and upload speeds potentially 100 times faster.

Northamptonshire County Council is so convinced of the importance of superfast broadband that it has made it a strategic objective to have services in place for businesses across the county by the end of next year.

Cityfibre has acquired an unused existing network in Northampton to connect it to its national fibre optic grid and add the town to its existing roster of 37 UK Gigabit cities.

Northampton technology firm dbfb is offering a range of packages to businesses that want to hook up to the network.

Cityfibre chose the new Sturridge Pavilion at Franklin's Gardens as the venue to launch the Gigabit broadband services in front of the town's community and business leaders.

Mr Mesch delivered an enthusiastic presentation of Cityfibre's business model and the benefits of high speed internet. There were a number of speakers including Cobblers Chairman Kelvin Thomas, who joked good naturedly about the defeat to Man Utd before emphasising the increasing importance of being able to offer your customers a good service in the digital world.

Mr Mesch, said: "We're delighted to be announcing Northampton as a Gigabit City and dbfb as our launch partner. Pure fibre networks like these will one day be commonplace, but until then Northampton and its businesses will be able to enjoy a huge digital head start on the competition."

Brian Kingston, co-founder and Chairman of dbfb, said: "It's a dream come true for us to now bring the latest advancements in digital connectivity to our home town. It is not every day you have the chance to introduce a product that will transform the way a business can operate."

Businesses can register their interest at www.cityfibre.com/northampton

Contaminated meat alert

Police are warning the public and butchers to be vigilant following a contaminated meat warning on the Northamptonshire border with Rutland.

Five sheep have been stolen on two separate occasions from land near Cottingham.

Five of these have turned up having been killed, skinned and the meat taken in a manner that was clear they were killed for their meat.

The chief concern is the day before the sheep were stolen they were given Noromectin, a drug used to treat worms in sheep. The safety advice is the sheep must not be slaughtered for human consumption until 42 days after the last treatment.

The company which produces the drug says it can cause nausea, vomiting and diarrhoea.

Giving youngsters a voice

PC Rob Stevens who works for the Wellingborough Safer Community Team is not only set to give youth a chance but to give them a voice.

He is aiming to hold a series of regular meetings on the Hemmingwell Estate in Wellingborough to speak to and find out what the youngsters who live there feel would benefit them and the area.

The aim is to hold a series of regular meetings at The Hemmingwell Centre to find out what young people want, what funds are available and then what can be done.

PC Stevens said: "Anyone can come along to the meetings as I want to get the kids involved."

"I want to see what they want to see happen in the area and get them all involved in the projects."

Cash hungry 'Big K' on The Apprentice

nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.co.uk
A businessman from Northamptonshire has been revealed as one of the candidates on the new series of BBC One's The Apprentice.

Karthik Nagesan is a 34-year-old from Kettering, who owns an IT consulting company based in Hove, called Defence Colony Ltd. He is one of 18 candidates who will embark on a series of tasks to try and convince Sir Alan Sugar to hire them and secure a £250,000 investment.

Karthik has been quoted by the show as describing himself as 'Alexander the Great' because he is a 'master strategist' and 'brilliant tactician'.

He also says he is the 'next billion dollar unicorn' and that his friends would describe him as a 'born leader who takes charge and blazes a trail'.

Believing he is 'firm yet polite', making him the 'ultimate human magnet', he adds: "If I wanted to be like everyone else, I'd have waxed my monobrow."

In his audition tape, he told the show: "I've got a nice big monobrow. Over the last 10 years people have been telling me 'have two eyebrows', but Karthik – or The Big K – is not somebody who is like everybody else. Everybody else wants to be like Karthik.

"I'm competitive as a leader. I believe in being an emperor not a tyrant. So when I enter a certain social scene, I immediately take up a leadership role, whether or not the crown is placed on my head.

"I got my first property by the time I was 30 years old, six years after stepping foot into the UK. Imagine what I could do if I was here for the rest of my life.

"I'm not in this to make millions, I'm in this to make billions with a capital B. The sky is the limit.... (actually) there is no limit. The sky is not the limit. I believe there is no limit. There is no limit to the growth you can have. When you say the sky is the limit, you say the blue thing up there, that's how far you will go, but that's not what I believe in. I believe the universe is infinite, and so is the ability to become successful."

The Apprentice will return on Thursday, October 6 and will once again see Lord Sugar joined by advisors Baroness Karren Brady and Claude Littner.

CCTV sex attack appeal

Police have released CCTV images in a bid to identify three men they think may have information which could progress the investigation into a serious sexual assault which happened in Kettering.

In the early hours of the morning on Sunday, August 28 in Buccleuch Street – at about 3.45am – a woman was knocked to the ground and seriously assaulted while walking home from a local pub.

Police are now appealing for these three men to get in touch as officers believe they could have important information about the events leading up to the incident.

Anyone with information can contact Northamptonshire police on 101. Alternatively, they can call the independent charity Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Where Cowell got his cake

X-FACTOR, the brutal musical mincing machine, has returned to our screens in its full, dog-eat-dog glory with former judges Sharon Osborne and Louis Walsh returning to their seats alongside Simon Cowell and Nicole Scherzinger.

The show is hoping to revive its fortunes after viewing figures sank to an all-time low of 7.85 million viewers per episode last year; at least a million behind rival Strictly Come Dancing.

X-Factor may have a good chance of catching up. As well as an interesting set of initial auditions including boyband 5am, Dermot O'Leary is to return to the show after quitting in 2014 after reportedly signing an £8 million deal with ITV.

And another aspect of X-Factor is also revived – the house where the successful contestants hang out while they cling on to hopes of making to the final but inevitably fall by the wayside.

In 2014 it was this four-floor mansion on Lancaster Avenue in Hadley Wood, Hertfordshire which has eight bedrooms, six reception rooms, a conservatory plus large garden and a swimming pool. It was home to the contestants including Ben Haenow, who won against Fleur East.

The property is also where Simon Cowell held his 55th birthday and Cheryl Fernandez-Versini, who has now left the show, surprised Cowell with a birthday cake.

If you're to rent a family home with this sort of X-Factor pedigree, then local agent Savills Harpenden (01582 465004) says the property is available to rent at £13,000 a month.

You'll need a lot of bottle

HAVE you ever thought of moving to Portugal to make wine for Sir Cliff Richard? If such an unusual thought was to cross your mind, then the perfect opportunity has arisen in the Algarve town of Guia, inland from Albufeira.

The area is carpeted with vines including those belonging to Adega do Cantor or 'winery of the singer' which for many years now been producing Cliff's award winning Vida Nova wines.

It's now for sale, so if you have the grape growing experience then it's a chance to work with the 'bachelor boy' who, according to the estate's vendors Nigel and Lesley Birch, likes to get involved closely in producing his Vida Nova range of wines.

Cliff lives next door and has owned a home in Portugal for over 30 years.

The Cantor winery started when he decided to plant a vineyard in the fields around his Quinta do Moinho home – which of course includes a tennis court – within the vineyard owned and operated by the Birches.

Cliff's Vida Nova wines have been around since the early noughties and although Cliff admits he's not much of an oenophile (the winery has a resident winemaker, Ruben Pinto) his white, red and rose wines are available in Waitrose and regularly win both international and Portuguese awards.

The entire estate, which includes two vineyards and all the necessary wine making equipment and materials, is for sale at 9.5m euros. It also comes with a four-bedroom farmhouse, three-bedroom cottage, five-bedroom villa, three swimming pools, offices and landscaped gardens.

More info from www.idealHomesPortugal.com or call +351 289 513 434.

Have you ever read a science fiction book, bought a Status Quo album or read a Jeffrey Archer novel? If you have, then unknowingly you'll have enjoyed the artistic talents of illustrator Chris Moore.

The 69-year-old artist has enjoyed a varied and prolific career particularly in science fiction book covers which have earned him a fan base both in the UK and the US. But he's also worked on books by leading authors including Jackie Collins, Claire Francis, Wilbur Smith and Colin Forbes and albums by Rod Stewart and Motorhead.

But despite working for such well-known authors and musicians, Chris says his biggest project has been his house, a large cowshed that he converted with his wife over several years near Clitheroe in Lancashire overlooking a reservoir.

The property, Black Moss Barn, is a five-bedroom property which Chris says is an ideal place from which to run a small business. It has a separate workshop and office over the garage offering stunning views over the local countryside including a well-known beauty spot, Pendle Hill.

"It is a very beautiful here and I've done quite a few paintings of the nearby landscape, he says. "We bought the property as a wreck complete with farm machines back in 1991 and then converted it in three stages – it's been a labour of love."

"But our children have now moved home and gone to work in London and so it's far too big for us now so we're going to move to the South West."

Black Moss Barn, which comes with an outbuilding and 3.1 acres of land including a paddock, is for sale with agent Savills (01200 411046) for £1.3 million.

HOT

Where Peter Rabbit was created?

A FEW weeks ago it was announced that a new Beatrix Potter book called Kitty-in-Boots is to be released after the story was rediscovered among the V&A's archives.

The story was written more than 100 years ago by Potter in a long-forgotten notebook, along with a sketch of the character, but it is to be published with illustrations by Quentin Blake.

Potter remains hugely popular and some two million of her pocket-sized books sell around the world every year including her most popular; The Tale of Peter Rabbit.

As anyone who saw 2016's film Miss Potter starring Renée Zellweger many of the settings for Potter's books are in the Lake District where she spent several family holidays and then, after her books became popular, bought a house.

Hill Top Farm, her home near Sawrey until her death in 1943, is where six of the books are set, including Peter Rabbit.

Her nearby childhood holiday home, Ees Wyke, which is a Georgian country house that for over a decade now it has been an award winning guest house, is for sale. Ees Wyke has 12 bedrooms and offers guests jaw dropping views over Esthwaite Water and the surrounding countryside. The nearest village is Hawkhead, where Beatrix Potter was often seen and where she met her husband. The village is also famed for its cobbled streets.

The property is for sale via Sotheby's International Realty for £1.25m.

Sales with a few strings attached

ERIC Clapton is to play only a handful of dates in the UK next year when he appears for three nights at London's Royal Albert Hall. This is not surprising as the 71-year-old 'slow hand' guitar legend revealed recently that he is suffering from a nerve disorder that makes it difficult for him to play.

This would be the end of an illustrious career for the Surrey-born musician who has 18 Grammy awards to his name as well as hit singles such as Layla, I Shot the Sheriff and Tears in Heaven. He's also been in many famous rock bands including The Yardbirds, Cream, Blind Faith and collaborated with both Derek and the Dominos and JJ Cale.

His home ownership has been almost as prolific. Clapton has been a long-time resident in Ewhurst in Surrey but has also owned properties in Dublin, Antigua and New York. And his former beach house on Venice Beach outside Santa Monica in California, which he owned from the late 1990s until 2004, is for sale.

Overlooking the pristine Pacific Ocean and a favoured neighbourhood of California's digital rich list, Venice Beach is a purpose-built resort and Clapton's former home is only a few steps from the water.

Designed by Japanese architect Arata Isozaki it has two bedrooms, two bathrooms, 30ft high ceilings and a mezzanine upper floor as well as a 600 square foot private patio.

The property is currently on the market for $4.75m via Keller Williams Realty.

20 YEARS OF SERVICE

200 YEARS OF EXPERIENCE

We've been selling homes in Northampton and the surrounding villages for over 20 years. During that time the property market, and the way in which people sell their most important asset, has continually evolved. Horts has been at the forefront of these changes and still continues to lead the way in an industry that, we believe, is all about being personal, professional and proactive.

Personal – Our Property Consultants believe this business to be as much about people as it is about their property. They understand the value of building solid, working relationships with their clients. That's why you always get to deal with a Horts Property Consultant, on a one to one basis, from the moment you meet them to the moment they move you.

Professional – We are part of the National Association of Estate Agents, members of ARLA and belong to The Property Ombudsman redress scheme.

Proactive – Our sales team are self-employed. They don't rely on basic salaries as many of our competitors do. They are energetic, motivated and experienced individuals who work hard to deliver on their promises. It's no wonder that we sold more homes in 2015 than any other Northampton estate agency branch!

WHAT'S ON ROUND-UP

It's a fright night with this creepy ghost story

BY LAWRENCE JOHN

lawrence.john@hpnorthants.co.uk

Things are set to get a little spooky as the Victorian gothic horror of The Woman in Black returns to the stage.

The touring cast features David Acton in the role of Mr Kipps and Matthew Spencer as The Actor.

Stephen Mallatratt's adaptation of Susan Hill's best-selling novel tells the story of a lawyer obsessed with a curse he believes has been cast over him and his family by the spectre of a 'Woman in Black'.

He engages a young actor to help him tell his story and exorcise the fear that grips his soul. It begins innocently enough, but as they delve further into his darkest memories, they find themselves caught up in a world of eerie marshes and moaning winds. The borders between make-believe and reality begin to blur and the flesh begins to creep.

The production's huge popularity has reached a global level, having toured the United States, South America, Tokyo and Singapore. In 2012, The Woman in Black was released as a major motion picture, starring Daniel Radcliffe, which became the highest grossing British horror film in 20 years.

The Woman in Black comes to Royal & Derngate from October 10 to 15 at 7.45pm, with matinees at 2.30pm on the Thursday and Saturday.

Tickets cost £9 to £30 and can be booked by calling the box office on 01604 624811 or by visiting www.royalanddergate.co.uk.

Charming musical tale of The Gruffalo's Child is half-term treat

The Gruffalo's Child is ready for an adventure.

One wild and windy night the Gruffalo's child ignores her father's warning and tiptoes out into the snow. After all, the Big Bad Mouse doesn't really exist... does he?

Julia Donaldson and Axel Scheffler's award-winning and captivating sequel is lovingly brought to life in a magical show perfect for ages three and above.

Tall Stories' hit adaptation of this modern children's classic is set to a wonderfully catchy musical score with original songs, and will be the ideal treat for the half-term holidays. The Gruffalo's Child comes to Royal & Derngate from October 24 to 29, with performances at 4pm on Monday and Wednesday, and 11am and 2pm on Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Ian and Camilla show it takes two to tango

BY LAWRENCE JOHN

lawrence.john@hpnorthants.co.uk

Strictly Come Dancing stars Ian Waite and Camilla Dallerup are waltzing their way onto the stage.

Along with professional singer Paul Amer and guests, Ian and Camilla present an intimate evening of dance, songs and stories from their time on the BBC 1 show.

Camilla, one of the original professionals and champion in 2008, is joined by her professional partner Ian Waite who has appeared in nearly every series of the show.

During the evening, Ian and Camilla will perform some amazing latin and ballroom routines and tell their inside stories from the hit dance contest.

There is also a chance to meet Ian and Camilla after the performance.

Camilla said: "I am so excited to be back in the UK and dancing. We have so many fantastic routines lined up including the tango, the waltz and the paso doble, plus loads more."

Ian added: "I love touring and performing live. I especially love meeting the Strictly fans after the show... then seeing their selfies on twitter by the time I get back to my hotel. This show is a night to remember."

Camilla and Ian perform at The Core at Corby Cube on Friday, October 14 at 7.30pm. Tickets cost £26, with concessions £24, from 01536 470 470 or thecorecorby.com

Jerusalem by Alan Moore

A genuine, heartfelt account of one man's quest to make sense of his existence and, by extension, of existence itself. It's a brave thing to attempt, and it's something that all of us are trying to do in our own separate ways.

Rarely, if ever, do we have the opportunity to truly see the world through another's eyes. With Jerusalem, Alan Moore has done a tremendous job of allowing us to glimpse the world as he sees it.

It may be very long, but that can just as easily be considered a strength as a weakness. If you enjoy reading great writing, then the 1,000 pages plus of Jerusalem are an unadulterated pleasure. There is enough material here to keep you thinking long, long after you finish the last page, and you may even be tempted, just like I was, to go right back to the beginning as soon as you've finished and read the whole thing again.

It's a thrilling fair-ground ride, it's a social commentary, it's an apocalyptic vision, it's a game-changer.

I couldn't put it down. I'm on my third review and I'm still thinking of things to say about it.

Get it read, you won't regret it... .

Bentley goes diesel with Bentayga

By: Stewart Smith

BENTLEY Motors has announced details of the first diesel model in the iconic British brand's history, the Bentayga Diesel, which it claims is the fastest SUV in the world.

The Bentayga Diesel hits a top speed of 168mph and can accelerate from 0-60mph in just 4.6 seconds.

At the heart of the world's fastest and most powerful luxury diesel SUV is an all-new, technologically advanced, triple-charged, 4.0-litre, 32-valve V8 engine developing 429bhp.

New technology gives the Bentayga Diesel the lowest CO₂ emissions of any Bentley, as well as a range of over 621 miles – allowing owners to, for example, drive from London to Verbier, Bordeaux or the Scottish Highlands on a single tank. The performance figures are little different to those of the 608bhp W12 Bentayga launched last year – although the diesel has an official fuel return of 35.8mpg compared to the 21.6 of the petrol version, making it the most fuel efficient Bentley ever.

Bentley says the development programme for the Bentayga has been the most exhaustive in the brand's history, ranging across five continents.

From the dirt and gravel of South Africa and the dunes of Dubai, to the muddy fields of Cheshire near its factory at Crewe, and from -30C in the frozen North Cape to searing 50C desert heat, the Bentayga's ability to perform on any surface and even in the most extreme conditions has been proven.

Bentley says the Bentayga Diesel offers great ride comfort, steering feel and handling thanks to a sophisticated chassis and electronic stability control. In addition to advanced, multi-mode traction control, the Bentayga also features hill descent control.

Other innovative systems available include Electronic Night Vision, which uses infra-red technology to identify potential obstacles ahead, and a head-up display, which reduces driver distraction and increases safety.

The Bentayga's eight-inch touch screen infotainment system includes navigation technology, a 60GB hard drive and a choice of up to 30 languages.

Rear seat passengers benefit from the introduction of the Bentley Entertainment Tablet – a removable 10.2-inch Android device with 4G, Wi-Fi and Bluetooth for high-speed on-board connectivity.

Prices have yet to be finalised and deliveries will begin in Europe early next year..

COVERCAR

Nissan Juke Nismo RS

BY PATRICK JAMES

THE Nissan Juke, just like its stablemate the top-selling Qashqai, has been something of a surprise package with runaway sales in the booming crossover market.

Nissan says the Juke has attracted a huge number of buyers who are new to the brand. As much as 82 per cent of sales have been to first-time Nissan owners.

It's look is very much in the eye of the beholder with some not at all keen on the frog-eyed look, but in the main the individual, off-beat design has been well received.

Despite being a compact crossover/SUV, Nissan has succumbed to temptation to produce muscled-up version with the Nismo RS.

Now the latest version of the firecrackers has had its power tweaked by 18ps, to a powerful 218ps which delivers blistering performance.

The 1.6 petrol engine powers the car from 0-60mph in just seven seconds, proper hot hatch performance, although with its high stance and not-very-dynamic shape, it does not really look like a hot hatch.

Admittedly, the look is enhanced with red brake calipers and discreet 'RS' badging on the front and rear. In addition it adds rear spoiler, lower front and rear bumpers, wider wings and sill side skirts, plus a dark chrome 'V-motion' grille.

Other sporting touches include red door mirror caps, new LED daytime running lights and eye-catching 18-inch alloy wheels.

The sporty look and performance is topped off with a retuned exhaust system providing a sportier engine note thanks to a large diameter exhaust silencer.

Inside, the RS logo appears in the rev counter while a distinctive suede wrap covers the instrument binnacle. The interior is finished in grey cloth trim, with black headliner. Four adults are seated in comfort and headroom is surprisingly good.

The crossover offers also smartphone connectivity with access to a variety of apps ranging from social media platforms to entertainment - including internet radio - through a large, 5.8-inch colour touchscreen on the dashboard which also controls other major functions. It also doubles as a monitor for the newest version of Nissan's Around View Monitor which gives a complete real-time 360 degree 'helicopter' view around the car to make manoeuvring as safe and easy as possible.

Handling is bound to be compromised when compared to a standard hot hatch, but a strengthened body structure, bigger brakes, revised spring and damper settings and limited slip differential as standard on the two wheel drive version means you are hard pressed to detect the difference.

In fact the slightly elevated ride height is helpful for all round vision when racing around bends. Otherwise, it feel composed and docile when pottering around town.

Economy is not bad either with 39.2mpg claimed and relatively decent carbon emissions of 168g/km, although fuel economy is probably not a major factor however for buyers of this model.

Performance is dynamic and it is a great ride, aided by responsive steering, while the form-fitting sports seats keep you firmly in place.

But this is still a crossover and practicality still counts. The shape of the boot has increased in two-wheel drive models by 40 per cent, taking the overall capacity to 354 litres. The flat folding rear seat and a two stage floor in the boot also allows for the carriage of larger objects.

Safety equipment is comprehensive and includes Nissan Safety Shield which includes lane departure warning, blind spot warning, moving object detection as well as sensors, all round airbags and stability control.

PARIS REVEAL FOR FERRARI'S FIRST V8 FOUR SEATER
By: Stewart Smith

THIS is the first four-seat V8 turbo-charged Prancing Horse which is about to be unveiled at the Paris Motor Show.

The Ferrari GTC4Lusso T is powered by a 3.9-litre V8 turbo and is the latest evolution to emerge from the engine family that was nominated the 2016 International Engine of the Year.

Its maximum power output is 610bhp at 7,500 rpm while maximum torque of 760Nm is available at between 3,000 and 5,250 rpm. The GTC4Lusso T has stunning speed, with a top whack of 198mph and a blistering 0-62mph time of just 3.5 seconds.

One of the main features on this stunning motor are its dynamic control systems which have been specifically calibrated to boost responsiveness to commands.

In particular, the car has four wheel steering which is integrated with Ferrari's latest side slip control system which makes for more rapid response when entering and exiting corners. The rear wheels steer in the same direction as those at the front.

The GTC4Lusso T's has a streamlined, tapered shape that gives it an almost fastback-like silhouette.

Inside, the car features what Ferrari calls Dual Cockpit architecture which is designed to off the best for both driver and passenger. It also incorporates the latest infotainment system complete with an impressive 10.25-inch HD touchscreen

CATERHAM SPRINTS TO A SELL OUT By: Stewart Smith

The latest incarnation of the Caterham Seven – the retro-heavy Sprint – has sold out in the space of a week.

All 60 of the £27,995 special edition built for the UK and Europe were snapped up within seven days of the car's unveiling at the Goodwood Revival.

The car, which features the same three-cylinder, 80bhp Suzuki engine as the entry-level Seven 160 and features bespoke styling harking back to the mid-1960s, heralds the start of celebrations for Caterham Cars' 60 Years of Seven celebrations, which will culminate next year.

Caterham's chief commercial officer, David Ridley, said: "We have been overwhelmed with the response to the Sprint. We knew of course it was a great product but the reaction we got is unprecedented."

"In a typical year, we'll sell around 500 cars meaning that, with the Sprint, we've sold more than 10 per cent of our annual sales figure in a week. It's been the perfect scene-setter to our 60 Years of Seven celebrations."

NEW MINI CLUBMAN IS THE WORKS BY: STEWART SMITH

THE new MINI Clubman estate has been given the John Cooper Works treatment making it the most powerful Clubman to date with 231bhp enabling a 0-62mph time of just 6.3 seconds and a top speed of 148 mph. Full John Cooper Works specification includes upgraded suspension, braking, cooling, exterior styling and interior features. It can be ordered now and is priced from £29,345 with the six-speed manual gearbox, and £30,945 with the eight-speed sports Steptronic transmission. As the latest member of the John Cooper Works family the latest Clubman features all the upgrades already seen on the John Cooper Works Hatch and Convertible models. These include the 231bhp engine with modified MINI TwinPower turbocharger. Fuel economy is rated at around 41.5mpg on the combined cycle with CO2 emissions of 154 g/km.

The MINI Clubman JCW comes with an upgraded interior including sports seats, an alcantara headliner and an array of standard equipment including MINI Navigation, Bluetooth and USB connectivity, and cruise control with a braking function.

On the outside, the Clubman's standard LED headlamps are surrounded by a daytime driving light ring that also uses LED technology, the lower section of which is white and acts as the turn indicator. The horizontally arranged rear light units also comprise LED lamps. The 2.0-litre turbocharged engine is fed through either a six-speed manual gearbox or an eight-speed sports Steptronic transmission and the suspension has been upgraded to handle the power hike.

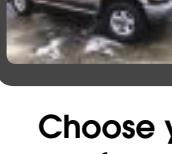

MINI says it expects more than 80 per cent of the Clubman JCWs to be specified with the popular Chili pack which adds a host of extras including the choice of any upholstery from the range, heated seats, 19-inch alloy wheels and extra storage inside. The Chili pack is priced at £2,000.

MOTORING NEWS

ALL TERRAIN ABILITY
FOR MERC ESTATE
By: Stewart Smith

MERCEDES-BENZ is to introduce a go-anywhere version of the E-Class estate which can tackle routes where conventional cars have to give up. The new E-Class All-Terrain comes with greater ground clearance and 4MATIC all-wheel drive. It also gets rugged styling and flared wheel arches to create a tough look. The newcomer will arrive in the UK early next year. With air suspension three ride settings from 0 to +35mm are selectable. Independent of the driving programme the highest level can also be selected manually. The E-Class All-Terrain is 29 millimetres higher than the E-Class Estate – 14mm of which is due to the tyres' larger height/width ratio and 15mm to the normal driving level of the air suspension. The ground clearance is 121 to 156mm. The All-Terrain driving programme has a special indicator in the vehicle display.

Information displayed there includes the steering angle, the vehicle level, the angle of slope and the angle of inclination, the accelerator/brake position and a compass. At launch the All-Terrain will be kitted out with an E 220 d 4MATIC 194bhp newly developed four-cylinder diesel engine. A short time later a variant with a six-cylinder diesel engine will follow. Both models come with the new 9G-TRONIC nine-speed automatic transmission as standard. A feature of the front is the SUV-style two-fin grille with the star integrated in the centre. A new look front bumper and lower paneling, electroplated in silver-chrome, also contribute to the robust appearance. The interior includes aluminium-carbon effect trim that is exclusive to the All-Terrain model as well as stainless steel sports pedals and floor mats with All-Terrain lettering.

SEAT UNVEILS MII BY COSMOPOLITAN By: Mike Torpey

A NEW city car model from SEAT called the Mii by Cosmopolitan will hit UK streets early next year.

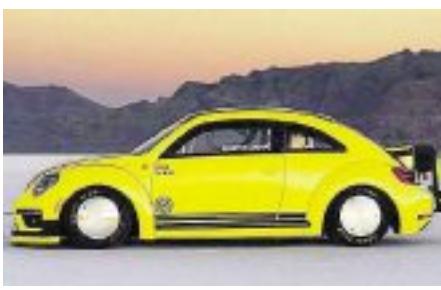

It is described as understanding the feminine side and lifestyle of the 'fun and fearless' Cosmo girl.

Pricing has not yet been released but the Mii variant will feature a 1.0-litre 75PS engine with five-speed manual transmission and boast Combined fuel economy of 64.2mpg.

Designed with the tastes and preferences of Cosmopolitan's audience in mind, the newcomer was part designed by Cosmo readers, who shared their thoughts and opinions via surveys and product testing, offering feedback and ideas.

Two colours, Violetto and Candy White, will be available and Cosmopolitan is supporting the launch with a social media campaign around the hashtag #ThisIsMii

NEW RECORD FOR WORLD'S FASTEST BEETLE BY:MIKETORPEY

A specially-tuned Volkswagen Beetle has set a new record at the traditional World of Speed event on the salt flats at Lake Bonneville in Utah, USA.

The Beetle LSR - Land Speed Record – with its turbocharged 2.0-litre direct-injection engine drove the fastest speed ever documented for a Beetle, 205.122mph over one mile.

The car's output was boosted to 550PS courtesy of changes that included a new turbocharger, different pistons, camshafts, connecting rods and cylinder head modifications.

There were also special wheels and tyres for driving on salt, the body was significantly lowered, a limited-slip differential was used to improve traction – and there were two brake parachutes for slowing the Beetle down.

The performance was officially recorded at the driving record event sponsored by the Utah Salt Flats Racing Association, which is held every year in mid-summer

WINNERS 3 YEARS IN A ROW!

Herald & Post Sport

sport@lsnmedia.co.uk

The 2016 season was one where Northamptonshire continued to punch above their weight and made a mockery of predictions that it would be a year of struggle for them

In a memorable campaign, where the only thing missing was a promotion push in the County Championship, there was no shortage of highlights for David Ripley's men.

From exceptional team performances, thrilling matches to some amazing individual achievements, here's why Northants have left us all feeling excited about what the future holds at Wantage Road...

T20 champions (again)

Let's start with the obvious: Northants' second T20 triumph in four years. To think, Sky Sports still insist on calling them underdogs in a format they continue to excel at.

They didn't exactly make things easy for themselves at Edgbaston in August, as they were reduced to 14-3 in their semi-final against Nottinghamshire and 9-3 in the final against Durham.

That they were able to lift the trophy was down to the two biggest T20 partnerships the county have ever produced, which enabled them to recover strongly from these poor starts.

Captain Alex Wakely was the glue in both innings, as he played the anchor role, while the batsman at the other end – Ben Duckett against Notts, Josh Cobb against Durham – smashed the opposing bowlers around the park.

Ben Duckett: Run machine

Duckett (right) began to flourish last year after he was moved up the order to open the batting, but no-one could have predicted how well he'd fare in 2016.

It began with 282 not out against Sussex in April – the first of four Championship centuries, which formed part of his incredible total of 1,338 runs at an average of 58.17.

The 21-year-old also made his maiden List-A ton and smashed 84 in the T20 semi-final against Notts, not to mention unbeaten totals of 163 and 220 for England Lions, which went a long way to securing his first senior call-up for the upcoming tour of Bangladesh. Not to mention winning the Cricket Writers' Club Young Player of the Year award.

Bowling revelations

Northants have previous when it comes to plucking talented bowlers from obscurity – think back to Jack Brooks and Muhammad Azharullah. You can now add Richard Gleeson and Ben Sanderson to that list.

Gleeson got his chance in the T20 Blast due to injuries to Olly Stone and Rory Kleinveldt and never looked back, taking 14 wickets with an economy rate of 5.97.

Sanderson, meanwhile, proved to be Northants' primary attacking threat in the County Championship, as he took 55 wickets, which included figures of 7-22 and 8-73.

Glory in defeat

Northants were involved in a couple of absolute thrillers in the One-Day Cup, although both were to end with them the losing side.

In June they were involved in an extraordinary contest at Trent Bridge, where the records tumbled as Kleinveldt's explosive 128 off just 63 balls saw the Steelbacks fall just 30 runs short of Nottinghamshire's 455-8.

After qualifying for the quarter finals as North Group winners,

Northants then came within one wicket of reaching the last four against Surrey, only to be denied by Kumar Sangakkara's unbeaten 130 at a raucous Wantage Road.

Small squad spirit

It's common knowledge that resources at Wantage Road are limited and this has led to Northants operating with a permanent squad of just 17 players, but there was plenty of quality on show.

At some point during the season, every player provided a significant contribution, showing that Ripley's decision to go with quality rather than quantity was the right one.

The best thing is that, Stone's departure to Warwickshire aside, this close-knit squad will be remaining together as a whole that is greater than the sum of its parts.

Saints new boys making themselves at home

A couple of new faces are settling in at Northampton Saints after the arrivals of lock Api Ratuniyarawa and centre/wing Nafi Tuitavake at Franklin's Gardens last week.

Both players are about to experience taking to the field in English rugby for the first time, which means they'll have to get used to a new style of play, not to mention the perishing cold of winter, when it arrives.

By the sound of Tuitavake's first experience of having breakfast with his teammates, adapting to his new surroundings may have one or two bumps in the road.

"There was a big tray of scrambled egg and it looked like porridge to me," said the Tonga international. "So I was scooping that into my bowl and the boys were just watching me."

"They knew what it was and I was putting sugar on. Then I went to eat and the boys started laughing and I was like 'what?'"

"I had a mouthful and it was then I realised I had scrambled eggs instead of porridge. Then the chef came out and told me that I wasn't the first and we had a good laugh about it."

Signing for a new team after the season has got under way means a player must go through something of a crash course into how things are done, rather than having a pre-season in which to do so.

Ratuniyarawa, capped 19 times by Fiji, joined from French side Agen and said: "It is a challenge arriving at this time. I did pre-season back in France and coming over here when the season has already started is unusual."

"For me, I have to do a lot of learning and I have to keep up with my conditioning, my fitness and try to be in good form while training with the boys."

While Ratuniyarawa joined Northampton because he and his family wanted to move to an English-speaking country, Tuitavake's move came quite suddenly due to off-field problems with former club Narbonne.

The 27-year-old is pleased to have left those troubles behind, saying: "Things are a shambles over there at the moment. But things turned around pretty quick and next thing I knew I was sorting out visas and I was here."

"A lot of things were going wrong at Narbonne – they were getting rid of coaches, getting rid of players. The season's just started and they're doing all that. I think money problems are the big thing."

Both players have been greeted by some familiar faces, as Tuitavake played alongside Ken Pisi with New Zealand U20s, while he is also good friends with his older brother George and Ahsee Tuula.

Ratuniyarawa has joined fellow Fijian Campese Ma'afu at the Gardens and the tighthead told his new club mate what to expect at Northampton.

"I spoke to him about the club and how they operated and it gave me a fair chance of what to expect before I came here," he said. "I now see how they train and how the team works and I think I'm settling in well."

SWINDON TOWN 1
NORTHAMPTON TOWN 3

Northampton Town have made a habit of making us think again this year – just when they have us considering that it can't possibly get any better.

Now they find themselves fourth in League One after goals in the closing stages from John-Joe O'Toole and Kenji Gorre gave them their fourth win in five league games and their first on the road this season. Suddenly the Shoe Army are dreaming again.

Some brilliant play down the right from Paul Anderson led to Northampton taking a seventh-minute lead, as he twisted Darnell Furlong inside out before his low ball across goal gave Harry Beautyman a tap-in.

The Robins somehow failed to equalise on 29 minutes when Smith did well to deny Johnny Goddard, then even better to block Obika's rebound.

Still the danger wasn't over, but the visiting fans were able to breathe at last after Thomas and then Obika again were denied by clearances off the line and Northampton just about retained their lead into the break.

Swindon were level after 66 minutes as Furlong retrieved an overhit cross and rolled the ball back for substitute Sean Murray, who found the bottom corner with a first-time finish.

However, Northampton were ahead again with 14 minutes left when O'Toole got in front of Lawrence Vigouroux to head in Taylor's corner at the near post.

And the win was secured by a superb move that saw JJ Hooper get away down the right with Alex Revell leaving his low cross for Gorre to sweep in at the far post.

Here's what we learned from the game...

The gaffer

Rob Page doesn't have a like-for-like replacement for the all-action Jak McCourt, so went with a 4-2-3-1 formation with O'Toole and Taylor sharing duties in screening the back four.

A manager lives and dies by his substitutions and Page will have been thrilled to see two of the players he brought on combine for the killer third goal. It should do Gorre the world of good too.

On the plus side

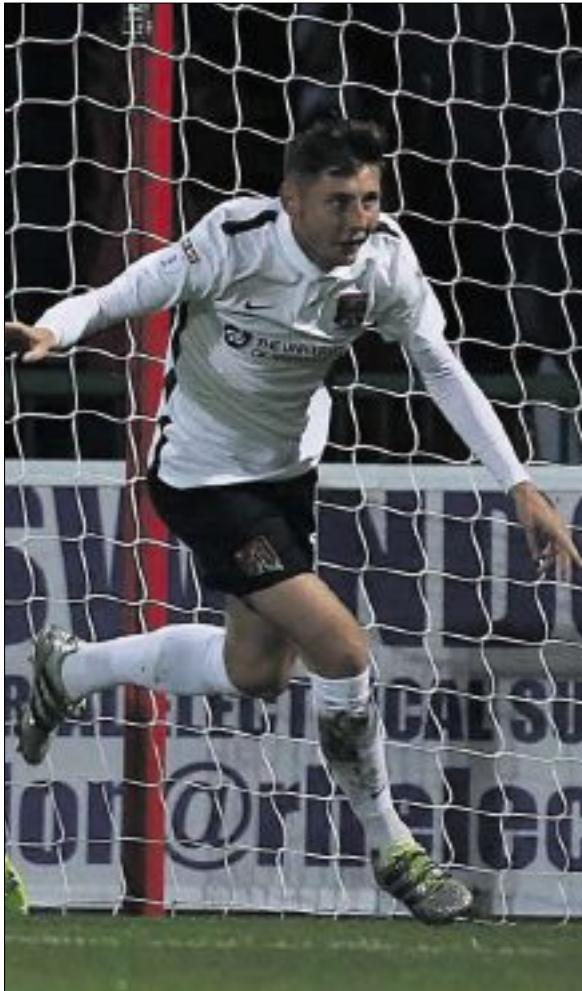

After goals in his previous two games, Anderson set up the opener with some brilliant play down the left to again demonstrate how quickly he's settled in at the Cobblers.

The former Forest and Ipswich winger was a threat whenever he had the ball, while at the other end Smith showed no ill effects from his nightmare against Manchester United.

The Town stopper didn't display any of the nerves that ruined his big night, with his handling immaculate to go along with his usual shot-stopping.

Could be better

Swindon got a lot of joy down

PURE ELATION: Harry Beautyman runs off in celebrating his opening goal in high-flying Northampton's victory at Swindon on Tuesday night

Northampton's left, particularly in the first half, and this was the negative side of Anderson's performance, as David Buchanan was left one versus two too often.

Next up is a complaint we've aired a few times: the Cobblers sit too far back when defending a lead. It invited pressure, which eventually told when Murray equalised after 66 minutes. Thankfully, it didn't prove costly.

The opposition

Going forward, Swindon provided the Cobblers with plenty of sweaty moments and no-one could really argue when the Robins drew level that they deserved it, as Luke Williams' side produced some good football.

Then we found out why their fans are so impatient with their team: defensively they are very fragile. Credit must go to the visitors for re-asserting themselves, but the way they took the lead for the second time was pretty soft.

Man of the match: Harry Beautyman

That's three goals by the end of September for the man signed from Peterborough in the summer. Let's hope that's a good habit that continues.

Beautyman is far better when he's deployed through the middle and he showed good goal scoring instincts to attack Anderson's cross early on and he linked up play well on the counter attack.

Town up to fourth and are soaring

GRIPPED BY THE COBBLERS

Northampton Town recorded emphatic wins against Southend United and Swindon Town over the past week, leaving Rob Page's men in the heady heights of fourth place in League One.

The Cobblers sunk the Shrimpers and downed the Robins, meaning Town have lost just one of their last 34 League games.

Page's men dispatched Phil Brown's Southend United 4-0 at Sixfields on Saturday before seeing off Swindon 3-1 in a tricky Wiltshire tie on Tuesday night. The Town boss looks to have built a squad of real quality with goals being shared amongst the team.

Southend were scythed down thanks to goals from John-Joe O'Toole, Alex Revell, Paul Anderson and a Champions League quality free-kick from Matt Taylor.

Indeed, O'Toole added to his goal tally at Swindon with a header sandwiched between strikes from two young Cobblers, Harry Beautyman and Kenji Gorre. These were welcome goals from two of Northampton's smaller players in Gorre and Beautyman, which will do their confidence no end of good.

Meanwhile, Anderson is showing signs of real technique, and the ex-Ipswich winger bamboozled the Swindon defence to set up Beautyman for the opener under the lights at the County Ground.

There is a togetherness running through the club at the moment which is wonderful to see. Many questioned Page's recruitment in the transfer window but the Sixfields supremo appears to have got it spot on.

Many called for a new striker but with Page favouring a lone hold-up man any new forward acquisition would be redundant. Some credit too for Page's tactics which have seen Northampton able to impose themselves on matches. Next up is a difficult tie against Bristol Rovers at Sixfields this Saturday. Rovers came up with Northampton from League Two but victory against the Gas could see Cobblers motoring in the automatic promotion positions dependent on results.

It's touch and go whether we'll see the 'battle of the Matt Taylors' with Rovers' own hot-shot Taylor struggling with a tight hamstring. Whatever the case, it should be a bumper crowd for the Cobblers with the derby game at Peterborough drawing ever nearer. Be afraid Posh, be very afraid.

Buck passed to Northants next season

Northamptonshire have announced the signing of seam bowler Nathan Buck from Lancashire on a three-year contract.

Buck has been playing his cricket at Lancashire for the last two seasons after arriving at Old Trafford from Leicestershire, where he came through the academy along with Northants batsman Josh Cobb.

The 25-year-old will add to Northants' bowling options next season, after the county lost Olly Stone to Warwickshire, and comes with plenty of experience of playing in all three formats of the game.

Buck said: "I want to thank Lancashire for everything they've done for me over the last two years – the fans have been exceptional. I'm excited at the prospect of being able to play for a club like Northamptonshire.

"It will be a new challenge for me and I'm looking forward to getting back to my best with some exciting cricket.

They are a strong, tight-knit side that have done exceptionally well this season; I can't wait to be a part of it."

Buck's opportunities were limited in the County Championship last season, but he does have 158 first-class wickets to his name, with his best figures of 5-76 coming against Essex in May 2014.

He had some success in white ball cricket this year, as he claimed 12 wickets in the T20 Blast and another eight in the One-Day Cup, while he once took five wickets during an England Lions tour of the West Indies.

Northants head coach David Ripley said: "We are delighted to welcome Nathan to the club. He has a lot of experience for a 25-year-old, including representing the England Lions, but I feel he is yet to reach his peak, which is very exciting for us.

"He will fit in very well into the changing room and showed a lot of desire to come to us when other counties were very interested."

SAINTS

BY MATT WRIGHT

Northampton Saints prop Alex Waller is keen to put a difficult period behind him following the fall-out from the incident involving him and Saracens winger Chris Ashton a couple of weeks ago.

Ashton was judged to have bitten Waller in the first half of Saints 27-12 defeat at Allianz Park, and was subsequently banned for 13 weeks by the RFU.

Waller was later sin-binned in that match and his luck was out against Wasps last Saturday as well, as a harsh obstruction call made against him by the TMO led to a Ken Pisi try, which would have put Northampton back in front, being disallowed.

You would have forgiven the 26-year-old for wanting to skirt around the subject, but the loose-head chose to front up and bring some closure to it.

Waller said: "It was disappointing, but it's happened now and the right people have dealt with it and I'm just looking to move on.

"I don't necessarily want to dwell on it. I just want to move on and keep playing rugby.

"What's happened has happened and, like I said, the right authorities and people have dealt with it."

TOUGH FORTNIGHT: Alex Waller hasn't had the rub of the green in Northampton's games against Saracens and Wasps

Waller also reflected on the yellow card he was shown for an off-the-ball incident with Saracens hooker Jamie George, an act very much out of character for a player not known for getting himself into trouble.

In the ten minutes following that tip-tackle, Sarries turned the match in their favour, having gone into the sin bin period 12-9 behind and growing increasingly frustrated.

"I let myself down and the boys down there a bit, but things happen in games," Waller said. "Things are read in games the way they are and that's just the game."

"We're always going to play on the edge but you've got to keep that discipline – that's the major thing across the board, one to 15."

"It was disappointing to lose and it was one of those things where, now it's happened, you assess it, look at where we went wrong, where we could have gone better.

"Hopefully we'll put that into practice in the next couple of weeks and iron out some of those creases we so desperately need to."
